Dear David

In response to your request, there is little to be said about my home.

In recent times the Diocese of York's policy has been to sell the large old vicarages/rectories/ clergy houses, and build smaller ones to replace them.

In 1963 the old vicarage in Bramham was sold, and the current one built in 1966 in what was the kitchen garden of the old one, and since then has been occupied by my family and me.

Yours

J. R. D. Shaw
