

New Road

An ancient route which appears on all the old maps -- it is said that a ford preceded the old bridge , which is now dubbed weak , but was the obligatory route for all heavy traffic before the accommodation road was created by the second bypass in the 1990 's . Nevertheless , New Road did not appear in early censuses simply because there were no dwellings along its length until the bungalows were built in 1968 - 9.

The early photograph , however , shows its importance as a cut - through from church up to Clifford Road and the Great North Road .

John Rupert Lacy Wood and daughter
Maguire are probably the two figures.
